Curling News

Recently the various rinks of the Irma curling club have been playing a series of knockout games for a cup donated by the Imperial Lumber Co. Last week the finals were played by the two rinks skipped respectively by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Milne. This Milne versus Milne game was closely contested all the way and ended in a win for Charlie, the score being 8-9. This cup is open for challenge, but only to rinks of the Irma Club. At time of writing this cup is in the hands of Kirkman's hockey club rink.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE WARBLE FLY BEGINS

It's warble time again—and time for action. Action last year brought to 30,000 Alberta farmers a gain of $5.00 per head on 800,000 cattle. To 60,000 others, inaction meant loss. The season is short, the prize attractive, and now is the time for every cattle owner to ensure his share of the profits.

The warble or heel fly is Alberta's most expensive cattle pest, and the easiest to control. At this time of year simple treatment is all that is needed. Once the larva has hatched from the egg and entered the host, nothing can stop its smothering migration through the animal's system. Not until it arrives under the skin of the back and bores its breathing hole can we attack it. There is nothing we can do to stop the inflammation, irritation, discomfort and unthrift which attend the grub's painful course. These effects of last summer's infestation have by now cost the owner approximately $5 per head in reduced production, damaged hide, and feed wastage. Thirty thousand Alberta stockmen avoided all this. It cost them about 5 cents per head—a small expenditure in return for such a handsome dividend. These men highly recommend warble fly control, not only as good business, but as a humane act towards their cattle. Treatment is cheap, easy and completely effective—and it's Warble Time NOW.

Sport Notes

(from the Viking News)

Reports to come from the respective training quarters of Billy Green, Calgary and George Mazurenko, Edmonton, indicate that both will be in the pink of condition come March 14th. The date Alberta's two foremost lightweight square off for the provincial lightweight championship in the Viking community hall.

Green, who is training in Calgary and expected to arrive in Edmonton two or three days in advance of the fight, feels fairly confident that he can stop the Edmontonian. A little less than a year ago, Billy decided on Mazurenko in a four rounder on a Calgary card and having beaten George once, sees no reason why he can't do it again, even if it is a longer route with three-minute rounds thrown in to make things really tough. Said Green, "Mazurenko will have to fight just as long as I will, and I'll be in shape to stand the grind—you can be sure of that."

Mazurenko, on the other hand, would like to avenge that loss he suffered to Green, and sees no better time than the 14th to do it. He's been working steadily at the Edmonton YMCA for the past few weeks and says he'll be razor sharp when the bell sends him out to face the Calgaryan.

Promoter Walt Marlow is mack-chibald of Irma to meet Wayne McCullough of Edmonton. While this affair isn't definite at this time, they will in all probability be fighting.

Gordon Gray, Viking welterweight performer, who was highly impressive in his win over Wayne McCullough in Edmonton on Jan. 22, will meet Danny Roberts, a Vegreville boy, in the six-round semi-windup. Gray is judged as a comer in flistic ranks, while Roberts, who has been making his home in Edmonton for the past few months, will be getting his first taste of pro competition. In the past year Danny has engaged in about eight amateur contests, and has served notice in recent performances that he'll do alright as a pro. Danny is 20 years old.

The special event, another six-round, will see Ray Jones, who won the last time out, come face to face with Morinville's fighting Frenchman, Louis Demers. The Morinville lad can punch and take it in unlimited quantities. Having no special pattern of attack, Louis just gets in and fights in a

Highlights From The Legislature

By W. Masson, M.L.A.

The second week of the present session of the Alberta legislature saw continuation of the debate on the speech from the throne. Excitement ran high on two or three occasions when members on the government side of the house rose to correct statements made by the C.C.F.

The member from Banff-Cochrane had his seat moved to the left of the Speaker during the week at the request of the government members.

Hon. A. J. Hooke, in reporting to the legislature on the work in his departments, dealt extensively with the work of the Film Censorship Board. This independent Board last year checked over 3,100 pictures. They brought about 116 eliminations (parts of pictures cut out) and refused two pictures, namely, "Alotment Wives," and "Decoy." The Act governing censorship of motion pictures has been in effect for 20 years, but there has not been any apparent reason for its rigid enforcement. 35 mm. pictures have always been censored, and most 16 mm. films were educational films. What was happening was that when 35 mm. films were censored, the same film was being shown in the province in the 16 mm. size.

In dealing with housing Mr. Hooke pointed out material from dismantled military camps was being made available as quickly as possible according to a priority list where government departments came first, municipalities, veterans' homes and businesses next.

His report showed that fire insurance written by the government had increased 33 1/2 per cent during the past year and now totalled more than $81,000,000.

The same steady progress was shown in the life insurance branch. Hon. C. E. Gerhart, in reporting on the department of municipal affairs, told the House that the farming population was down 1 per cent last year, while the provincial population showed a 5 per cent increase.

The use of electricity in the province last year was up 25 per cent, while tax collections generally were very high.

The social service tax, a field which last year netted the government over a million dollars, is being returned to the municipal district. This field may henceforth be used by the municipalities to increase their revenue.

The minister, in dealing with the department of trade and industry gave information which showed a very favorable industrial development and expansion. Last year, sixty-six new industries started in the province. This has provided employment for more than a thousand people and has added much to the total provincial assessment. Thirty-six new industries are now making plans to enter the province with many more making enquiries. Twenty-seven new co-operative associations were formed last year. The total business done by co-operative associations last year exceeded $104,000,000.00.

crowd-pleasing fashion. Ray on the other hand, carries a respected right hand—he floored Eddie Heidt for a nine count with it—and he'll prove no soft touch for the Frenchman.

Hardisty's David Reeve is awaiting his meeting with Cowboy Alan Brown, of Viking, and it's generally taken for granted that this affair will provide plenty of action. Tickets are on sale each evening and Saturday afternoon in Runyon's Pool Room, or may be obtained by writing to N. Rashbrook, Viking. Ringside $2.35; reserved $2.05 (tax included).

A big dance will follow the boxing program.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

COMMENCEMENT

By ELINE FRANCIS

THIRTEEN of the seniors at Miss Tolton's boarding school were excited and happy this graduation day. The fourteenth, Betsy Van Nord, was miserable. In a few minutes she would be revealed as anything but "the select young lady" Miss Tolton's turned out. Just wait until Marly, Louise, and all her other friends have her parents. Why did they have to come and ruin everything? After practically ignoring her for four years, why couldn't they have stayed on the West Coast?

"Daddy and I could not bear to miss our little girl's big day, so we are dropping our contract at the Club Chichi," mother had written in her last, scolding, hands, and will arrive by bus, train, or carrier pigeon. Phooie!

"The darling does," Aunt Jean sighed when Betsy read it over the telephone. "But what's a job when you've given up everything..."

Betsy interpreted this in her own light. Her parents were irresponsible. She had thought so for quite awhile, ever since they shipped her east to Mrs. Trilling, Dad's elder sister. "It's for your sake, darling," Dad said, "the hot spots where mom and I work, are no place for a twelve year old beauty. Remember, we'll miss you." Double phooie! They were just ducking their duties.

The first heartbreak over, Betsy learned to love Aunt Jean, her New York apartment, and finally Miss Tolton's. It was such an exclusive school—scholarship high, too—that Betsy could never have held up her head without a touch of showmanship in her blood. At least that is how she felt. For the other girls, daughters of wealthy professional men, were so similar in appearance, speech, and background. The important thing, Betsy determined, was to be exactly like them. By adroit questioning and later, on vacation visits, she learned much about their families. Regarding her own she said little, and that little, highly imaginary. Her parents, she admitted it pressed, were engaged in social work on the coast. Which was one way of describing the rough and tumble comedy team of North and North. She was glad they used an assumed name for their act, and gladder that Aunt Jean, her sponsor, was white haired and patrician. Surely, she would not have been accepted if she were so different in every way from the trim mothers, the tailored fathers, Betsy met. Mom, with her wild hair, her dress too severe. And father's, nothing something would prevent their arrival. Once exposed as different, how could she ever face her raised eyebrows? She could imagine the raised eyebrows, the lilted comments, the...

Slowly, she descended the winding stairs and even more slowly entered the reception room filled with beaming relatives of the graduates. She said hello to those she knew and would have missed her parents entirely if it were not for Aunt Jean. They were so neat and subdued that momentarily her heart filled with relief. It sank again when she reached them. Mother's flaming hair was too set in its unnatural sausage curls, her dress too severe. And father's morning suit was too stiff, even his gardenia looked sharp. Was it the cheapness of their clothes that made them seem like caricatures of the others?

"Darling," her mother cried and though she did not fling her round, full arms about Betsy and press her to her soft high breasts, the richness of her voice gave that affect. "My dearest," her father said, "you're beautiful," and his words boomed around the room. Betsy winced. She kissed them almost coolly and then fell frantically on Aunt Jean. Here was someone worthy of display.

Mother's lips quivered as though she had been slapped but Betsy edged them into a corner and started talking. Various friends waved, motioning them over to their group, but Betsy did not move. Nor when Marly with her parents in tow, paused to speak to Aunt Jean, did

ST. VICTOR AN OASIS ON PRAIRIES

ST. VICTOR, Sask.—This hamlet of about 80 residents, 10 miles from the nearest railroad or highway, is an oasis in the dry wheatlands of south central Saskatchewan.

Two dams, built with the assistance of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration, provide a stream deep enough for swimming as well as water for orchards of plums, cherries and apples. Raspberries and strawberries also thrive here.

But the most incongruous feature of St. Victor is that almost half the population is made up of men and women in their twenties. They work for a funeral benefit insurance society which does all its business by mail.

The site is a green acre in the hot summer months with swimming and fishing close at hand back of the dams. If night club entertainment is preferred there is Glasgow, Montana, a few miles away across the border. Leader of the tiny community is J. F. Lalonde, head of the insurance society, who came from Quebec in 1916.

His brother, Eugene, was the original postmaster and still holds the post.

The Lalonde home is something of a "Shangri-la" in this farming district. A tennis court and fish pond make it even more fantastic for a prairie home. There are maples, elms, poplars on the grounds.

Lalonde's foot beach was formed when he put in his own dam which utilizes waters of nearby springs.

Taxi Driving In London Is Difficult

Geography Of Streets Is Hard For Newcomers To Learn

The British Legion is exerting itself to equip ex-soldiers for taxi-driving. London stands in need of at least another thousand taxis which means addition of double that number of drivers. The trouble is to teach new drivers the geography of the streets. The Home Office test is a very searching one involving close study extending over several months.

Even ex-drivers who are coming back to the work after six years with the forces confess to being very rusty. On one occasion, a journalist was taken a considerable distance out of his way. He remonstrated at the end of the journey. No one could have been more polite than the driver. He admitted he had gone all wrong and voluntarily suggested a substantial tip.

Just a bob, sir, and I'll be quite satisfied," he said. When his fare learned that he had been all through the Burma campaign he gave him more than the taximeter recorded.

she make any introductions. She felt her friends staring at her, probably whispering about her, and she was desperately the exercises were over. Chagrin replaced the happiness on her parents' faces. Serves them right, she thought bitterly, and turned with relief when the sound of the graduates to assemble.

It's difficult to restrain a voice which has been trained to make it self heard in the most remote corner, which accounts, no doubt, for what Betsy overheard half way down the room. "Belle," dad said, "we've got a lady on our hands. Was it worth it?"

Betsy looked back. Mother was smiling up at dad, comfortingly. "Was it worth it? What did he mean?" Aunt Jean had said for all this—or had she? Mrs. Trilling had never been rich, where had she suddenly found the money? Betsy must have misinterpreted what Aunt Jean tried to tell her on the phone and at other times. For four years mother and dad had been knocking themselves out, three shows a night, not letting her know their sacrifices or loneliness, so that she could have a good education. They had relied on her to understand their love if not the details. Commencement! It was high time she started acting like a graduate instead of a dope.

Marly edged close to her and asked indignantly, "Why didn't you introduce me to your parents? They look like actors."

"They are in a way," Betsy replied proudly, "and you'll meet them right after this."

"How exciting! Gosh, you're lucky." Betsy smiled at this unexpected reaction. Yet Marly was right, she was lucky. What was the point in having parents the same as everyone else's. Being different was the main part of growing up. Mounting the platform, she searched the audience for her family and then smiled broadly into their eyes.

PHILADELPHIA.—Motorman Milton Shaw pulled his trolley to a halt recently and dropped into a lunch-room for a snack.

Two persons boarded the trolley, then another. The latter alighted in his seat, suddenly jumped up, ran to the controls and started the car.

"Hey you can't do that," shouted Shaw as he dropped his food and gave chase.

Shaw pursued the trolley seven blocks. Then the man at the controls halted to pick up a passenger who turned out to be Patrolman Samuel Wyche.

The driver, who said he was George Quigley, 31, was arrested on charges of malicious mischief and operating a trolley without the owner's consent.

WARBLE FLY

MILKING TIME

Spring time is milking time on every progressive. Just a small herd of cows will pay the grocery bill all summer, but if your cream separator is old and wheezy, you can be losing enough cream to buy a new one. Why put up with an old one when you can get a new No. 9 Massey-Harris from $34.00 to $95.00, the latter price is, of course, for a 900 lb. machine. The first cream separators we sold sixteen years ago were Massey-Harris and they are still running good. What more proof would you have? Call and see them when in town, and at the same time see all the other new items we have in stock.

Can I get started in a BUSINESS OF MY OWN?

YOU CAN FIND THE ANSWER to that one in this very booklet. We have published it for veterans who have the urge to start up for themselves. A copy is yours for the asking at any branch of the Bank of Montreal.

When you call for your copy of "What's the Score on these Veterans' Loans?", have a word with our manager. He knows the details of the new Veterans' Business and Professional Loans Act, recently passed by Parliament for your benefit, and he is anxious to help go-ahead veterans who want to start in business for themselves, to improve their present set-up, or to go into partnership with a friend.

If your proposition is sound, there's money for you at the B of M.

Remember, when you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favour.

In Lonely Outposts

Your RED CROSS help is needed!

In frontier districts of Canada the nearest hospital or doctor may be a hundred miles or more away. Over twenty years ago the Red Cross began establishing outpost hospitals and nursing stations in these remote regions. Today a whole chain of Outpost Hospitals can be found in the frontier districts of the Dominion. They bring medical science within reach of these isolated communities. Hundreds of thousands of patients have been treated in these tiny hospitals, including thousands of confinement cases. These hospitals also serve as health centres for their communities, carrying on medical inspection in the schools and organizing clinics for the children. Your help is needed to maintain and expand this vital work. Stand behind the Red Cross, and help bring medical aid to your fellow-Canadians pioneering on Canada's frontiers. Give NOW... give generously.
